A Yugoslav Military Information Center is located at Knjazevac, Yugoslavia. Its functions reportedly are of a defensive nature; it is charged with the collection of information concerning the infiltration of Cominform elements from Bulgaria into Yugoslavia. This Center also controls the mobile units of the Militia which block the crossing points along the Yugoslav-Bulgarian border. The Center is headed by Colonel Radivoje Radovic.* His deputy is Major Miljko Basic who is also Political Commissar. The Center is also responsible for the Negotin-Bosiljgrad sector where there is direct liaison between the guard-posts and the Militia pursuit units.

Comment: A Colonel (Radivoje Radovic) was reported in February 1948 to be Assistant Chief of UDB for Serbia.

25X1 Forced crossings of the Greek-Bulgarian frontier by Cominformists for activity in Greek and Yugoslav Macedonia have reportedly taken place. One group of 40 Cominformists is said to have crossed the frontier near Paljurje (sic). Encounters with bands coming from Bulgaria allegedly have taken place near the villages of Kalotihon and Potamohorion. Food-stuffs smuggled into Yugoslav territory are located in the zone of Kajmakcalan.
